The council met in the council chamber on Wednesday evening. The mayor, councillors, secretary and solicitor were all present.

From Rev. Gray asking the town to solicit a case from the C. P. R. for Francis Gifford, now sick in the public hospital.

From the Imperial Bank, asking settlement of bill for new savings, these having been burned by the fire engine while pumping from the tank at the corner during the last fire.

From general hospital, asking town to allow them $20 a month for the support of the pauper, Kenny McKay, and enclosing bill for settlement.

From N. D. Beck, offering to redeem lots 5, 6, 7, and 8, Block 26, R.L. 12, Plan D, in Caldwell's name, and asking for transfer of same. Lots having been bought in by this town, at tax sale in 1901.

From Beck, Emery & Dubuc asking for settlement of bill for $2 for tracing, due to the late T. W. Chalmers.

Councillor Heimick produced a bill of wants, setting forth, what in his opinion, were matters of the utmost and urgent importance for the consideration of the council. The council ordered that Mr. Heimick's bill of wants be filed.

The communications were disposed of as follows: viz:

That the town co-operate with Mayor Howland as per his communication.

That the letter from the fire brigade be referred to the fire, water and light committee.

That the secretary forward the Rev. Mr. Gray's letter to the C. P. R. asking for pass.

That the Imperial Bank's request be referred to the town solicitor, as to the liability of the town.

That the offer of the general hospital, to keep McKay at $20 per month, be accepted. That the secretary be instructed to write the Territorial government asking for the return of the McKay.

That N. D. Beck be granted privilege to redeem Caldwell's property.

That the account of the late T. W. Chalmers be paid.

That the Bulletin be informed that the council does not see their way clear to increase their order for pamphlets.

That Mr. Chipman's communication be laid on the table for an adjourned meeting.

The fire, water and light committee reported the result of negotiations with the Edmonton Electric Light Co. stating that they had made an offer to the company of $12,500 which the company had refused, but presented a final offer of $14,500, which the committee now submitted for the consideration of the council.

Dr. Fraser, director, and Sec. Treas. Jellist, addressed the council on behalf of the company, in support of their offer or failing that, the extension of their franchise for a period of 10 years, to enable them to increase their stock and sell shares. After considerable discussion the whole matter was referred back to the fire, water and light committee to ascertain the cost of installing an efficient electric light system as a municipal undertaking.

The secretary's communication produced reports upon the local improvements of 1901, setting forth the cost, and the particulars concerning them. The reports were adopted.

Wednesday, the 19th day of March, was set down as the date for the sitting of the council as a court of revision on the foregoing matters.

Dr. Roy appeared before the council and stated that a family of immigrants had just arrived in town with two cases of diphtheria; that they had been refused admittance at the hospitals and had nowhere to go. He asked that the town take some measures to provide temporary accommodation for the family. In this matter, as it was considered that the health of the town was concerned, arrangements were immediately made to have the family housed and quarantined. (This was accomplished at midnight.)

The secretary was instructed to write the government with respect to the building of a court house and to the appointment of a resident judge.

The adjourned meeting, for the consideration of Mr. Chipman's reports on waterworks and sewerage, was set down for Monday, the 24th inst.

Funeral of Lord Dufferin.

London, Feb. 12.—The Marquis of Dufferin, former Governor-General of Canada, and who has filled many high diplomatic posts in the English service, died at 6.25 o'clock this morning at his residence at Clanclochy, County Down, Ireland. Lord Dufferin has been long in ill health. He passed away peacefully, after a night of total unconsciousness.

Associated Press Dispatch to The Evening Telegram.

London, Feb. 12.—Lord Dufferin never wholly recovered from the shock which he experienced as the result of the death of his son, Lord Avebury, in South Africa, and the failure of the London and Globe Finance Corporation, Limited, and kindred companies of which he was a director, completed his breakdown. With the exception of his youngest son, Lord Hamilton Temple-Blackwood, who is with his regiment, the Ninth Lancers, in South Africa, all the family were at the death bed. Lord Clanclochy, the eldest son, who is a clerk in the foreign office, and who married Florence, daughter of John H. David, of New York, succeeds to the title.

The funeral of Lord Dufferin will be private. His remains will be buried in the graveyard at Clanclochy, on February 15th.

London, Feb. 12.—The papers comment on Lord Dufferin's salary pension of £1,700 yearly, which necessitated his mixing up in city companies.

The St. James' Gazette says: "It is not a pleasant reflection that if the nation had acted with justice towards such a man as it has now lost, he might have been spared the humiliation which he brought upon himself, in consequence of the circumstances in which he was left, in the last days of his brilliant career."

Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

Yokohama, Feb. 12.—The premier, Viscount Katsura, announced in Diet to-day the signature of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which is there regarded as being practically an offensive and defensive alliance. The news of the signing of the treaty has been received with enthusiasm throughout Japan.

Paris, Feb. 12.—The view taken in diplomatic circles here is that the Anglo-Japanese alliance, being purely defensive, is not a disquieting element in the eastern situation. The agreement, it is here claimed, excludes Manchuria, and Russia therefore is not menaced thereby. The alliance is taken to show that Great Britain has abandoned her opportunistic and vacillating attitude of recent years in the far east for a fixed and definite policy. The result will certainly make for the peace of the world. The question of Korea, provided for in the first articles, cannot lead to a disturbance of the peace, because Russia has no aggressive aims in that country. Japan, also, is not aggressive. One of the first results of the alliance will probably be a new Japanese loan, as Japan has need of money.

Protection Against Smallpox.

Pincher Creek Echo: It has been deemed wise by the authorities to send a constable to meet the trains coming in from the West, and to that each passenger coming into town has a health certificate. This precaution has been taken because of the disease being in Fernie and other points in B. C. It is merely a precautionary measure, and necessary, for if we can prevent smallpox coming in by this means, we are bound to take every reasonable precaution.

Canadian Northern Railway.

Prince Albert Advocate, Feb. 10.—A prominent resident of Kinsington, who has just returned from Fernie, states that grading is now going on on the line of the Canadian Northern railway through the muskeg country. The contractors expect to push along about twenty-five miles of this work in the month of March.

To Protect Wood Buffalo.

Macleod Gazette, Feb. 14. The wood buffalo are again under great threat some years protected by statute owing to their scarcity. The government are arranging to extend the limit of their range to the St. Lawrence, and an act providing for this will be introduced at the coming session of parliament.

THE KING VS. BULLOCK.

Mrs. Marie Lyons, sworn; Am the wife of J. A. Lyons. Live 12 miles east of Ponoka. Found a watch last summer, about the last of May, on a Friday evening, on the east of the highway. About 8 inches from the fence. The door of granary faces towards the highway. Saw the prisoner at my place some time before. Came in on the winter road with his father. The distance from where the watch was found and the highway would be the length of the granary room. Prisoner did not go away from the rig while there. Know De Wylde came to our place hauling potatoes. Do not think he was near the spot where the watch was found. De Wylde was at my place after I found the watch. Asked him if he had lost a watch. He said no. The watch exhibited is the one I found. Never noticed any marks on the watch. The marks pointed out are those my husband showed me.

Between the time the defendant was there only saw Mr. Pulver, who was at our place on the Sunday night before the prisoner was there. Know Blanchard Bullock, whom I saw accused thought it was Blanche.

Cross examined by Mr. Bown; The accused was not out of my sight while at our place. Was in full sight of my husband, father and myself the whole time he was there. It would have been impossible for him to have thrown the watch where I found it without me seeing him.

Frank Smith, sworn; Live at Red Willow Creek, southeast of Asper, about 50 to 60 miles away. Formerly lived on the land now occupied by Mr. C. B. Phillips which I then owned. Last spring I came close by my old place about the 8th or 9th May. Was driving. Know where E. K. Bullock lives. Came by there. Came up on the west side and went down on the east line. Was hunting for Jacob Ward and my wife. Was quarantined at Battle Lake until 25th or 26th April, at Jacob Ward's place. About three miles away from Mr. Phillips. Went to look for my wife. Did not drive off the road. Did not go into a bush off the trail. Stopped on a hill and looked about. Drove towards Phillips. Had blankets and clothes in the back of my car. When I saw Tom Phillips I drove towards him, keeping on the trail. That took me to the north of the little lake. Drove pretty fast, wanted to get home. Saw two men working in the field near Bullock's house. They were ploughing southeast of the house. Was driving a dead axle tractor.

Cross examined by Mr. Bown; Last summer and spring and the winter before, did not see a band of Indians wandering around the country.

Sergt. Hetherington, recalled; When I arrested the prisoner he had a watch on his person. (Watch produced.)

Have the photo referred to in connection with the post mortem. All those present between the 17th and Smith had looked at it on a previous occasion.

The exhibit is a portion of the sock taken off the body at the inquest. The next exhibit is a portion of the hat or the drawers also taken off the body at the same time. Saw two (ugs, similar to those shown, at the inquest. They were produced by Tyrrell.

Court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Mr. Tirrell, sworn; Am master mechanic in the works of Northern Pacific Railway Co., at Aspen, Wyoming, where Stainton and I were employed. Bullock and Stainton were acquainted. Stainton was about 5ft. 10 in. Much shorter than I am. I am 5 ft. 9 in. Was fair complexion. Between 18 and 20. Worked together 4 or 5 months. Bullock was called Bud and Stainton was called "Kid". Appeared to be well acquainted and fairly intimate. Heard Bullock speak as having come from Michigan. Was at Aspen on the 16th April last. Gave them their time between the 17th and 20th April last. That is an order to draw the wages then due to them. They came together stating they wanted to quit. They had been asking for their time several days before, but the rule required men leaving to give 10 days notice. Said they were going to a place called Asper, in Canada, to take up land. I told them they had not got money enough to go there and take up land. Bullock said they would go to take land and ask me. Then would go to work at some of the mines. Asked them how much money they had. Bullock replied he had $65 or $75 and the "Kid" would have between $175 and $200. They left camp the morning after they got their time. Have seen the prisoner write. Have seen his writing about the shop and have seen him sign his name at my office.

Identified letter received at Ardmore in October last. (Mss was a letter from the prisoner to Mr. Tirrell applying for work.)

(Photographs exhibited) Have seen the larger one before, it most resembles Stainton as I know him.

Young Stainton had tools of his own. Some of them were marked with his initials. (Hammer exhibited). Have seen that hammer before, in my shop at the tunnel works. Recognize it not only by the initials on the head but also by the copper S shaped wedge which I put in myself. The handle is home-made and made in the shop.

(Small tool exhibited). That is a scraper used by machinists for scraping out holes bored in metal.

Saw Stainton packing his tools in the shop before he left in April. He rolled them up in his overalls and took them away.

Saw Stainton purchase a telescope rifle from Mr. Davis' the morning before he left the works. Mr. Davis' was rooming in defendant's place. Was with him. Davis had the rifle in his room for some time. It was about the style and size of the one now in court. They were paid on the 25th of each month. Bullock earned $50 and his board while at the boiler work. Stainton got 25c per hour and $15 per week board, deducted from the pay. I know Mr. Graham of the post office. They cashed cheques for men from the works. Provided they had cash in the last month's pay, they would have had one month and 18 days pay due them. Gave Bullock an order for time about 4 or 5 weeks before he left. Said he wanted to send some money away and wanted to go to Evanston and then go back in about 3 days and then go to work again. He was away a day and a half. Never saw either Bullock or Stainton use liquor. The use of liquor was not permitted at the works. Have seen tags, similar to the one shown, it is the same used at the laundry on my own clothes.

The tags I had at the preliminary, held at Wetaskiwin. I took off a pair of socks of my own. When I sent my socks and clothes to the laundry there were no tags on them, when they were returned the tags were attached. Some of the other men viz. Mr. Davis, Rich, Stainton and myself sent clothing to the same laundry at Ogden. The articles were put up in far paper bags, each bag would bear the owner's name, the bundles were put in a bag belonging to the laundry. The bag was shipped in my own address and was returned to my own address.

The witness was told to step aside. (The evidence of Leonard P. Algar, taken before a commission. Evanston, assistant cashier at North & Stone's bank. On 27th Feb., 1930, opened an account for $110.97 under name L. W. Stainton.)

The rest of the evidence read to the court.

The witness re-enters the court. Saw Stainton put his signature to the letter exhibited. "That is Stainton's signature." Know when Stainton went away he had some peculiar kind of manner. Mr. Davis, my room mate, was away for some weeks and when he returned he had a dozen or more bunches of matches of peculiar appearance. They were in book form were an advertisement of some firm in Cheyenne. They were of wood, thin and flat. Opening the book would reveal the matches. There was a place to strike it on the back of the book. The head of the match was red. When Stainton was over in my room on one occasion the matches were lying on the table, he picked some up and put them in his pocket.

(Matches exhibited). Those referred to were like those now shown.

Both Bullock and Stainton had a watch. I sold Bullock the one he had.

Am positive that watch is the one I sold him. Stainton had a brother at our works.

When Stainton was at the works he wore a black box cap with a peak, it had one or two bows in front above the peak. It was a cap similar to the exhibit. The stains along the edge of the cap were of a greenish grey. Have seen Stainton wearing a leather belt with a couple, or possibly three, rings in it. It was similar to the exhibit. Never saw a musical instrument in Stainton's possession. Have seen both Stainton and Bullock wearing "button photos." The one Bullock wore, he said, was of his wife and son.

(The hair exhibit handed to the witness; Stainton's hair was about that color.)

When Bullock spoke of going to the Northwest he said he had a father and mother at Asper. When men had worked 4 or 5 months it was the custom to give them a pass eastward as far as Denver and west to Ogden. A man wanting such a pass would get it from the resident engineer of the N. P. who lived at the works. Would issue the request to the engineer. I gave Bullock and Stainton an order for a pass to Ogden, but cannot say if they got it. Mail for the works was sent from the post office. Sometimes the men would go to the post office, themselves, for the mail.

Cross examined by Mr. Bown; Ogden has a population of about 10,000. Ticket selling is done in the States. Stainton's pass was not at all sandy. Stainton's hair was what we call tow-head. Stainton wore dark corduroy trousers in the shop; he wore blue overalls in the shop.

Never saw him wear overalls like pattern exhibited.

Both men worked full time and worked Sundays and week days. Were of good habits. Have seen Stainton wearing a ring, he did not wear it all the time. The conversation about the amount of money they had, took place in the shop during morning hour. Am positive about the respective amounts. Stainton was a good sized boy but would not call him heavily built, more of slender build as I knew him.

Stainton had the top of a finger cut off in the lathe. Think it was the fore-finger of the right hand, but the hand was not injured. Many of the men had photos of the works. They were for sale in the town.

James Smith, sworn; Live at Kalamazoo, Mich., married Mrs. Stainton. The youngest child was Leon W. Stainton, aged between 3 and 4. Married to Mrs. Stainton 15 years. L. W. Stainton was about 19 years old. Leon Stainton lived with us until a year ago last August. He was a machinist. Went to Asper, Wyoming.

The photos shown are of L. W. Stainton. His mother received letters from him. Regularly got letters once a week from him. He would write away until April last. The letters sometimes contained money orders. Remember two such letters, one was for $25 the other for $10. Do not know what he took away with him. Knew him to have a pocket book and a key. The pocket book was calfskin, folded up, was lined partly with red. His own father's name was written on the pocket book. Teacocha, Mich., was also written on it.

The revolver was 38 nickel plated. There was a spot on the side near the top and near the cylinder. Remember picking it up and looking at it when it was in his room.

(Pocket book exhibited). That is the pocket book.

Should say that is the revolver. "That is the spot I referred to, that is the one."

Previous to the preliminary at Wetaskiwin neither of those articles had been shown me.

Leon Stainton was 5 feet 7 inches. He and I measured each other a short time before he went away. He was half an inch taller than I am. Am 5 feet 6 1/2 inch. He was a little heavier than myself. I weighed 140 lbs. We wore about the same size clothing. We have owned other clothes. The coat he left at home. I wore occasionally. I tore the match pocket. Am a blacksmith. I caught it on the wire fence. He sent for the coat. Faw it next about the 17th Aug. at the police barracks. It was shown to me by Corporal Hetherington. It was then in three pieces. I bought it and paid for it and fetched it from Cramer & Sons, who are clothes dealers.

(The coat taken off the dead body shown and identified.)

Leon Stainton wore a belt. It was leather had a ring and a buckle. Court adjourned to 10 Tuesday.

Tuesday morning, 10 a. m. James Smith; Examination by the crown, continued. The belt shown is like the one Stainton had. Am sure the articles he had when he left home, he had a "Street Fair" badge. It was a souvenir of a fair held at Kalamazoo. The badge were sold to parties visiting the fair. Know that L. W. Stainton had one of the badges. He used to wear it on his coat.

The badge shown is the same as the one he wore.

Was present at the examination of the body at Wetaskiwin. Two days after I saw the articles at the police barracks. Mrs. Braithwaite and Robertson were present at the grave. Do not remember if I looked at a photo there or not. When the body was taken up I looked at the remains. I looked first at the face. I examined the mouth, the forehead, cheek bones, the chin and the teeth.

They were the remains of Leon W. Stainton.

Identified the body by the forehead, the cheek bones, a large chin, large front teeth, evenly spaced all the way through. (The spaces between the two front teeth and the next ones on either side, in the upper jaw, were a little wider. I examined the hair which was the same color. I cut some off the head and delivered it to Corporal Hetherington. Hair exhibit is the same. Could not identify any of the clothing. Among articles sent to Leon by his mother, there was a white metal comb. The word "Sapho" was inscribed on it.

(Comb shown). "That is the comb."

A cither was also sent to him, it had been in the house for nearly a year. It looked like the one (exhibit) on the table.

Have taken papers to the office addressed to L. W. Stainton, Asper, Wyoming.

(All the photographic views handed to witness). None of them I believe I have seen before in my own home.

Before Leon left home he had worked 3 years at his trade. He was always neat, his habits appeared to be good. Never drank to my knowledge.

Cross examined by Mr. Bown; Never saw any other comb like the one shown me. Do not say that is the only one of the kind manufactured.

By Mr. Bown. You did not know much about the comb at Wetaskiwin. How is it you know so much now? No reply.

Saw the sample of hair cut off the head. At the preliminary did not say I took it, because I was not asked.

Before I started from Wetaskiwin had heard something about Stainton from Corp. Hetherington. I hoped the remains would not prove to be those of Stainton, but thought the chances would be the other way.

Was at Wetaskiwin all day. The body was in a pretty fair state of preservation. Easy to recognize. It was swollen, nose out of shape, lips gayed. Leon was open hearted. Would divide his last dollar with a friend. Made lots of friends. Never saw him wearing braces like those shown. Said at preliminary he had a small collection of old coins.

The coat was bought at Cramer & Sons, Kalamazoo, has a population of about 35,000. Cramers is a good size firm, they sell lots of clothing. Leon Stainton was often called Smith. Anyone who had 25c could buy the "Street Fair" tokens. People from the surrounding countries came to the fair.

Thos. B. Phillips recalled. Since I was examined was requested to make a survey of the spot where the body was found. Was a land agent and surveyor in the old country. The plan here is made by myself. Fred Bullock was with me when I made the plan. Plan shown and explained to the jury.

By Mr. McDonald: Have tried the experiment to find if it is possible to see from the house, anyone standing in the bluff near where the body was found. Sent Frank Bullock to the bluff while Fred Bullock and myself stood in the house. Could see Frank enter the bluff. When in the bluff could only see the top of his head. Frank would probably be 4 inches shorter than the prisoner. I might say that as Fred Bullock continued his way through the bush I lost sight of him.

THE KING VS. BULLOCK.

Cross examined by Mr. Bowen: Measured the grass which is a little over 6 feet, about 6 feet 3 inches and about 6 feet 4 inches across. It would be possible for anyone ploughing in the field, and looking at the flag when coming towards it, to bluff when in the bluff.

C. D. Tait, sworn: Live at Wetaskiwin. Lived at Battle Lake. Know E. K. Bullock. Was at Asker. When Fred Bullock first went there they lived with me. Stayed 4 or 5 weeks. They then rented a farm. Have seen him there. It was 40 or 50 miles from the house. Went to the house in April. After I had been there an hour or two, the prisoner came in with his brother Fred. While there the prisoner, who had to pay money to his brother, put his hand in his pocket and withdrew what looked like gold or brass money. He said I will have to wait until I get changed. Stated there for dinner. Went hunting in the afternoon. If changed, I proposed to say he understood. He did not start with me. We went towards the little lake which is north or northeast. When the prisoner and Ray came after us, we went on in another direction to the house. Ray wanted him to stay, he wanted to go to British Columbia. Am an American. Have heard of the Bullock family. Never saw them there.

Cross examined by Mr. Bowen: The Bullocks have a good character. Never had before.

Court adjourned until 2 o'clock. Mrs. Mary Smith, sworn: Live at Kalamazoo, Mich. Am wife of James Smith. Was a widow when married. Her husband name George Stainton. Home was at Tecumseh, Mich. Colquhoun. Have three children by first marriage. Clifford, who is 12 years old, and Leon Warren. The two boys lived with me. Son Leon was between 3 and 4 when I married 15 years ago. Was married on 6th April, '80. Lived in Kalamazoo. Leon, until 10th August, 1900, always lived with us. He was a machinist. He had some tools. Had 2 or 3 at home. He did not know if they were marked. He had a good boy. Was at home the day he left. Took his working clothes. Had a pocket book, a revolver and coins.

He wore a button photo on his coat. It was of a lady named Birdie. The photo is the photo of my boy. The other exhibit is also that of my boy. The larger one was taken first, the other just before he left home in the spring of 1900. He always wore a ring. He had a "Street Fair" badge. Other people of Kalamazoo were such things.

The pocket book had belonged to his mother and was what we call a wallet. It had his father's name and an address which I saw his father-in-law. It was red. I gave it to Leon when he was about 12 years old. Know he had a revolver. The coat in the large photo had a silk or satin lining. Went with Leon when he left home. He left the coat behind when he went away. Before Leon went away I had ripped off the lining. After Leon left the coat was sent to the house. Mr. Smith wore it sometimes. I then sent it to Leon in a box with some other things. Box addressed to L. W. Stainton, Aspen, Wyoming. The coat was sent by parcel post from Cramer & Sons. When I sent the coat I sent some socks, a sweater and other things. Also sent him some shirts. They were heavy with white tops. The old ones were black. Sent my picture in the first box. There was a dirty mark on the front of it. The exhibit is the coat sent on the occasion. The pocket book produced is the one on which I saw my husband write his name and address. The photo is the one of Miss Birdie Kruer, and is just like the one Leon wore. The "Street Fair" badge looks like the one he had.

The coat exhibited. I can see the marks of the stitches where I ripped off the silk. Am satisfied it is the same coat.

The piece of top of coat resembles the sock my son had.

I sent him a box at Xmas it contained some socks, 3 blue handkerchiefs, a comb and a little white China doll. The handkerchiefs were of blue ground with different white patterns. Those pointed look like them. The comb was aluminum and had Saffronwood on it. Had sold goods for the company. The comb in my court is exactly like the one I speak of. The doll also is exactly like the one I sent him.

Sent him his zipper, which he had for more than a year before he went away. I had played on it myself. It was marked in the corner the "Special Columbia zipper." Put it in a box and expressed it to him.

(The zipper shown). "That was his." Sent him socks and papers. The last time some time in March. Think there were 2 of them. The "Leisure" I stitched each 3 numbers together on the sewing machine.

(Papers exhibited). Remember the names of the stories (pointing) "these are the marks of the sewing machine." Would say those are the papers. Often wrote a name on the papers.

Know of my son Clifford having a photo taken. Had one with a hat on the other without. In one of the pictures he wore a full beard. That is Clifford's picture. During Leon's absence while he was at Aspen he wrote to me every week. Until about the middle of April. Always turned the letters. They were dated from Aspen.

My son was nearly my height. I am 5 feet 7-1/2 inches. He was very fair, and had a high forehead, cheek bones high and straight, square chin. Good nose, straight across the front. The teeth were good. Never had any dental work done. He was about the build of my husband James Smith. Leon was a little wider across the shoulders.

The lock of hair is the color of my boy's.

Handwriting exhibited and identified. (This was the order, issued by Mr. Tait at Calgary, for reduced fares, which the ticket clerk, at Calgary, C. P. R. depot, identified as printed by one of the two men who presented it.)

(Letter shown) Addressed to Miss Irene Gill, Kalamazoo, on envelope is in my son's writing, and was sent from Mr. Smith to Sergt. Hetherington. Have had the envelope in my possession. Received it from Mrs. Irene Gill. It had a letter in it. This letter now shown is the same.

Handwriting in hotel registers exhibited and identified.

My son sent me money on 3 occasions. At Xmas (1900) $25, later $10 and $5 at another time. Have seen my son producing overalls similar to the pattern produced.

The letter written by Miss Irene Gill I have had in my possession. It was returned to me from the Aspen post office.

My son had no watch when he left home.

Cross examined by Mr. Bowen: My son as far as I know never had any dental work done. They were good looking teeth. At the preliminary I said my son had a belt, said there were rings on the belt and that they were covered with leather. I might have been mistaken.

G. R. F. Kirkpatrick, sworn: Am manager of the Imperial Bank. Have been in the banking business over 16 years. Have had occasion to make careful comparison of writing. Have had experience in that. The signatures of C. E. Bullock and B. Bullock, on various exhibits, I would say were written by the same party.

Cross examination by Mr. Bowen. He not made any special study of comparing writing. Experience has been more with signatures. Do not know the rule adopted by experts.

Sergt. Hetherington, recalled third time. Received the letter and envelope, produced from Mrs. Smith, by mail. Believe the signature to be that of C. E. Bullock the accused. The belt buckle off the dead body measures, from the hole in which it was buckled to the end of the buckle, I find, 30.3-4 inches.

Exhibit Rea, sworn: Am a drug clerk in the employ of G. H. Gray. Was asked, by Sergt. Hetherington, to weigh a piece of lead. Used the apothecary scales. The piece here looks like it. There was another piece the shape of a bullet. I jotted down the weight. The sergeant took the paper with him. The pieces weighed respectively 128 and 146 grains. The pieces weighed in court giving result as previously stated.

Adjourned until Wednesday 10 a.m. Wednesday, 10 o'clock.

The crown: Mrs. Smith, recalled. Identified handwriting in letter on Leon W. Stainton at the grave and at the "post mortem." The exhibit is the one. The articles quarantined, which I found in the pockets of the deceased, consisted of pipe stem and buttons but nothing of value. No money. The head of the corpse was lying towards the north. Going from Lethbridge to Grand Forks, Sterling is one of the stations on the road.

Cross examined by Mr. Bowen: Took the piece of collar at the inquest and had it for some time. When under the impression that it was of velvet. At preliminary the collar did not prove to be of velvet. The collar being up, it appeared to me that the man was dragged. Did not notice any tears in the clothing at the inquest. Was recalled several times at the preliminary.

The Judge: I have decided that the evidence taken before the commission shall be admitted.

The crown: The evidence of Harry Ray, Fred Tait, the coroner at the Order Steam Laundry. Was there in March and April. Worked every day since January, 1900. The laundry was run by the men employed at the works at Aspen. The clothes came in a sack or bag, and were identified.

It was marked by a symbol and the initials of the name of the owner on a clip of cloth inserted in a metal tag. The letter stood for the first letter of surname, S, represented L. W. Stainton, of Aspen, Wyoming. T. G. is for W. Tirrell, both were at a mining camp in Wyoming. Can say I have seen the metal tags shown before the coroner by my assistant. (Tags shown to the jury). The mark on the portion of sock was made by myself. That on the portion of drawers represents L. W. Stainton. The last washing for Stainton at the laundry was done April 4th, 1901.

(The various exhibits now read and shown to the jury).

"Letter addressed to C. Sterling, in possession of the prisoner, and apparently written at Great Falls, 'Was taken expressed to home of Mr. Bullock's death.' Signed Olive Minar, Kalamazoo.

Another letter read referring to the "death of C. E. Bullock, which had been dated 21st 1901."

A letter to Miss Olive Minar, Kalamazoo, "Collision it was the operator's fault we had a head end collision."

Railway tickets issued 23rd April, 4th day May.

Hotel registers showing signatures of C. E. Bullock and L. W. Stainton at Lethbridge 23rd April, Calgary, 25th April, and Calgary hotel register of 30th April, showing the signatures of C. E. Bullock alone.

Receipt sent by L. W. Stainton to the banker for $100.92.

Case for the crown closed at 11:30 a.m.

Mr. C. de W. MacDonald, for the crown—opens address to the jury.

Commenting on the distances from which the witnesses were brought, on the expense incurred and on the great facility exhibited by the detective office to whom the case was entrusted.

The issue now before you is of the utmost importance, because on the way you view the evidence depends whether or not the prisoner shall continue to live for better or for worse.

The demeanour and manner of all the witnesses is so respectable as to lead one to suppose that they gave their evidence in a honest and straightforward manner.

The way in which the evidence of Mrs. Smith was given, sometimes not being certain, at other times, being positive, shows that it was given in good faith.

I may say that it is a most trying position for any person to be called into court, by the crown, to give evidence against one of their nearest and dearest relatives, which such evidence may send him to the gallows. The brother and father of the accused, gave their evidence in the clearest manner, in fact all the witnesses have done the same. It is pretty clearly demonstrated that the other member of the family was implicated in any way.

A body was found, and on examination was clearly shown that the deceased was shot from behind, and that the murder was one of the foulest ever committed.

Certain things were found on the body; these showed that the probability was that the man came from Kalamazoo, Mich. It was afterwards discovered that a man, who belonged to Kalamazoo, was missing. The evidence as to identity, of Mr. Smith showed him to be that of their boy. The boy had lived at home with Mr. Smith for the space of 15 years. He had seen him from day to day, seen him grow up, and had opportunities of observing his face from every angle, every change of expression must have been noted; it is therefore, beyond doubt, that the man who was Mr. Smith's identification of the body is correct.

Though Mrs. Braithwaite and Robinson, after screening us to the teeth were of remarkable appearance. The actual height of the body, 11 inches, which agrees with the evidence of Smith, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Graham and Tirrell.

The measurement at the inquest was not carefully taken, this has been shown; as it was taken with a piece of string, but Dr. Braithwaite, who has had experience in measuring men, gave the measurement 5 feet 7 inches. The belt taken off the body measured, to the point of buckling, 31 inches, thus showing that it came off a slender man. This upsets the evidence of the elder Kreitzberg, I would ask you therefore to remove from your minds the idea of the measurement, given by some of the witnesses at the inquest, as 5 feet 10-1/2 inches.

The coat is the most important evidence, as to identification, that has ever come under my notice. The coat had a silk facing as you will notice by the way Mrs. Smith himself has clearly proved that it belonged to her boy, and that it came from Cramer & Sons, Kalamazoo, and that it was bought by Mr. Smith himself.

The tear in the pocket is further proof, as Mr. Smith says that he tore it on the handle of the vice, and sweats that it is his particular coat. Mrs. Smith shows us where she ripped off the silk lining, but does not remember the tear. This shows that Mr. and Mrs. Smith had combined to identify the coat. This evidence is therefore most conclusive.

A cap is found. On the top of the cap, and on the peak, you will notice signs of grease; examine the coat, you will find grease there also. The inference is that both belonged to a machinist and one and the same man. The master mechanic, Tirrell has provided that Stainton was a machinist, he having worked in the shop under his charge. Tirrell also says that Stainton wore a cap like the exhibit. The cap was found a short distance from the body, the inference is, therefore, that it was worn by the body when in life.

Mr. Phillips found a bundle of papers close to the corpse. Mrs. Smith tells us that she had sent to her son 9 papers which she had stitched on the sewing machine. Examine the edges of the papers and you will notice the serrated edges made by the machine. Now then, how was it that that bundle of papers was found near the body? It must have been taken there by either the murdered man or by the one who killed him.

The small machinist tool is further proof that the dead man was a machinist.

The peculiarly shaped matches found in the pocket of the dead man, together with the fact that Tirrell's claim Davis had brought home some of the same kind of matches, and the evidence of Tirrell who saw Stainton pick up some of the matches from off his machine, we know that Bud Bullock and L. W. Stainton worked in the same shop, that they were chums.

Now being 12:45 the court adjourned for lunch.

Sitting resumed at 2 p.m.

Bullock and Stainton cashed two mortgages and Stainton cashed two, as proved by the evidence of Mrs. Graham who knew both of the men.

On the 23rd April, two tickets were sold, to C. E. Bullock and L. W. Stainton, by the Alberta Coal & Railway Company. The tickets prove that the two men travelled together from Great Falls to Lethbridge.

The immigration agent, who travelled on the train, has an entry in his book of the names of C. B. Bullock and L. W. Stainton. One of them gave their destination as Asker. Mr. Gray recollects seeing them on the platform the following day, and apparently they boarded the train.

We trace them by the hotel registers, to Calgary.

Mr. Toole, the C. P. R. land agent at Calgary, issued an order for two tickets to C. B. Bullock and L. W. Stainton. The ticket agent on the strength of this order issued two tickets. The ticket agent saw the names of C. B. Bullock and L. W. Stainton signed by one of the two men who presented the order. Mr. Gray remembers one of the men carrying a musical instrument.

Young Lucas, while in Algar's store at Ponoka, saw two men come to the store and left a musical instrument to be called for by one of the Bullocks.

Later on Lucas saw the two men on the trail between Asker and Ponoka, and they asked him the way to Asker.

On the road they go to the house of Mr. Dick, who swears one of the men was the prisoner.

They continue the journey with the mail carrier. During conversation with Kretling, the shorter man says referring to his companion, "that also is a Bullock."

Bud stated that he had come with another man who was going further. I ask you gentlemen, has the defence tried to show what became of that man?

The body of a man is found near Bullock's house. Now with the facts before us, is that not the body of L. W. Stainton? Is it likely then in a strange country, at 11 o'clock at night a man would put a body in a house and let him go on alone, especially as he was near the house of his parents?

Stainton always corresponded regularly with his parents. This correspondence suddenly ceases. This is another link in the chain of evidence.

What was the motive to commit such a dastardly deed? The evidence shows Bullock was a drunkard. Not a drunkard, but he drank. With expenses on the road and what he knew the amount he started with, he could have had nothing left.

It is proved that Stainton, when he started on the journey, had $229 and Bullock had only $24. How was it he had $55 when he got to his father's house, after all the expenses on the way?

The fact that Bullock had so little money, $24, and was having $229 points to the probability that Bullock, after spending his own money, murdered his companion for what he had. I believe, in this case, impelled through sudden temptation, to commit the deed.

The prosecution touched on all the facts connected with the manner in which the deed was committed, the admitted improbability of the father or brother seeing the prisoner go to the bluff during the day, when it may be assumed the body was buried. It is clear he could have gone into the bluff and have buried the body without being noticed.

The Bullocks have sworn they did not hear any shots, but it appears to me that there must have been more than the usual barking of the dogs to cause Fred Bullock to get up and go out. It does not appear reasonable to suppose a farmer, after working hard all day, would get up, simply because the dogs barked. It cannot be supposed that the prisoner knew he was so close to home when the deed was committed.

Tait's evidence shows that Bud did not leave the house with the others when they started on the hunting excursion.

The general actions of the prisoner committed upon.

The letter to Miss Munn, signed by C. B. Sterling, the name assumed by Bullock when he crossed the boundary line, stating that Stainton was dead goes to show that the prisoner thought this would be a good scheme whereby the death of Stainton would be proclaimed.

The letters written to Tirrell by Bullock gave the clue. Otherwise Hetherington could never have discovered him. In this letter he foolishly asks if anything has been heard of the "Kid" and writes "I left him at Calgary, in Canada."

After dealing in an exhaustive manner with all the minor points connected with the evidence and the actions of the accused, the case for the crown was concluded by Mr. MacDonald at 2:40 p. m.

Mr. Bowt in an eloquent manner addresses the jury on behalf of the prisoner. The great difficulty of establishing identity is touched on, and the extraordinary peculiarities connected with the case are pointed out. Great stress is laid on the statements made by some of the witnesses at the inquest that the collar was of velvet. They found at the inquest the body was that of a man of 5 feet 10-12 inches. Mr. Phillips, who has since measured the grave said it was 6 feet 3 inches. There is evidence that the body was that of a large man and from 25 to 35. The articles taken from the body, not even marked by the coroner, are handed over to the detective. Kretling says the body in the grave did not remind him of anyone he had seen before.

Later it is learned a man, named Stainton, from Kalamazoo, is missing, but he only measured 5 feet 7 inches. How are we going to get over the difference between 5 feet 7 and 5 feet 10-12 inches. At the preliminary measurement is hurriedly taken. It appears that the measurement is again taken it is 5 feet 7 inches (the measurement wanted).

Dr. Braithwaite says it might be difficult to establish the identity of the boy. Mr. Smith said that probably with his mind made up that he was to find the body of Leon W. Stainton. Might he not have been mistaken?

What are they looking for? Why they are looking for L. W. Stainton, they are not looking for comparisons. If there is any doubt as to the correctness of the measurement, you are bound to give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt. The crown must prove the correctness beyond any doubt.

The doctor's own books explode their theories as to telling the age of a man by his teeth. Dr. Robertson stated that the clavicle was fully ossified, but when it was pointed out that the ossification did not take place until 30 years of age, Dr. Robertson says he did not examine carefully. I claim that these examinations were not carefully performed. It is a fact that the body filled a grave nearer 6 feet than 5 feet 7 inches. I ask you to examine the teeth and see if some of these are not badly gone. The mother states that her boy had never had any dental work done. Now about the watch with Mr. S. K. Mich. marked thereon. The evidence that it came from Michigan is just as strong as the evidence that the badge came from Michigan. Still the ownership of the watch could not be proved. There is no evidence to prove in what hole the belt was buried when taken off the body. All the articles were taken off the body and handed to the detective. This is a dangerous practice. I open the door to a dishonest detective. I do not make any insinuations against Sergeant Hetherington. But I do say in such cases all articles that should be marked by the coroner and guarded for reference. As to the laundry tags referred to I think that among a population of 70 men there are many laundries and many men with the same initials. I would not place too much importance on that. The traces on the body are not worth, but no one could state that they belonged to Stainton. Tirrell says he never saw braces on Stainton. Where are the braces Stainton had? They were not found on the prisoner. Some of the ore found on the body is copper ore. Stainton did not come from a copper country. There is evidence that Stainton had lost the end of an index finger. It is a fact that the hands were examined but no evidence as to this was brought out. The eyes were not examined at the inquest. At Wetaskiwin one eye was gone. With all these differences connected with the "evidence" have you not, gentlemen of the jury, some doubts in your mind. If you have, or even but one doubt, you must not hang a man, but must give him the benefit of the doubt. There is a principle in law that says when there is equal evidence of guilt and innocence, you must decide in the favor of innocence. The evidence of the mother shows that the little son followed her brother pretty closely all the time. (Passages in Taylor on evidence quoted touching on the evidence of professions, etc.) The theory of stiffness or rigidity as mentioned by Sirgeff. Hetherington is not carried out by the crown's own expert witnesses. All the points connected with the medical evidence with the "pros and cons" were carefully weighed and placed before the jury. Mr. Bowt concluded the defence by pointing out the possibility of Leon W. Stainton coming to light, after the execution of the prisoner, through any wrong verdict.

Being now 5:30 the court adjourned until 7:30 p. m.

CONCLUSION OF THE TRIAL.
Bullock Condemned to Suffer the Extreme Penalty of the Law.
Sitting resumed at 7:30 p. m.

The judge opened his charge to the jury by explaining the difference between murder and manslaughter.

It was pointed out that the first question to be considered is whether or not the body found was that of Stainton, if it was not, then your work is done and you find the prisoner not guilty. You can believe or not believe the evidence of any witness as you think fit. Because a witness gives evidence on oath you are bound to believe him. Though I am of the opinion that all the evidence is clearly given and believe they all told the truth, the step-father of Stainton, who was acquainted with the deceased, was positive as to the identity. The mother was sure as to the color of the hair. It is sure that Stainton and the prisoner intended to come up to this country. They were traced as far as Calgary. They purchased tickets there to come on. One was signed by L. W. Stainton. The mother says that is her son's signature. If you believe her statement then you can be sure they came up. There is no trace of Stainton after that point. We have evidence that the prisoner was seen in company with a young man who answers to the description of Stainton. Kretling's evidence says he saw two men answering to the description of these two men. The crown has told you that identified by both Mr. and Mrs. Smith, each point out a mark of identification. A photo was produced which shows the actual coat. A further circumstance points to the identity of Stainton, that is the mark on the sock said by the laundry man at Ogden. The fact that the prisoner was in the habit of sending clothes to that laundry. A similar coat to the one worn by Stainton at the works was found near the body. The papers found near the grave. Mrs. Smith says she sent to her son and points out the sewing machine marks, the having sewn different numbers together. The crown has told you that a prisoner is rarely committed by direct evidence. In this case almost all the evidence is circumstantial, but, such evidence, if of the right kind, may be even stronger than direct evidence. The mark on label of the coat shows it came from Kalamazoo. Some of the boys in his pocket, he was known to have matches of that particular kind. It is for you to consider these certain facts.

Take the identity. That alone might not be sufficient to prove to your minds that this was Stainton, but all the facts together may satisfy you that the body is that of Stainton. These circumstances, together with the articles found in his possession, must be considered by you. You must be sure beyond any reasonable doubt that this is the body of Stainton.

The defence has pointed out, that at the inquest, certain witnesses stated that the coat had a velvet collar. The coat has not a velvet collar. Were they mistaken? The measurements of the body do not agree. The first one taken with a piece of string. Later by Mrs. Braithwaite and Robertson. It was re-taken and made 5 feet 7 inches.

The statement of the learned counsel for the defence that these men went for the purpose of making the measurement five feet seven inches is hardly correct. I do not think these men would go to make it 5 feet 7 inches if it was not so. There is nothing in the evidence that the body at Wetaskiwin was not the same body that was measured at the inquest. The fact of the body having one eye was probably due to decomposition. If you find the body was that of Stainton, the next question is: How did he come by his death? There is no doubt on this score. The medical evidence shows he died from the effects of a bullet wound.

The next question: Is it proved that the killing was done by the defendant? The conduct of the prisoner, immediately after the occurrence, will have to be considered by you. The statement of Dick shows that the prisoner and his companion were going to Bullock's. Dick says they were shorter one said they were going to Bullocks and "there is a Bullock too." When prisoner got to his father's place he said he had come out with another man who was going on, but he didn't know where. This is a very suspicious circumstance. I think, if the prisoner was guilty of the murder of the prisoner, he would have been more than willing in order to acquire the money Stainton had, because it is clearly shown he had more money in his possession than Bullock had.

The opportunity for committing the deed. Now it seems to me it could have been accomplished before the defendant was admitted into the house. The family does not show there was any opportunity to dispose of the body that night, but on the two days following there may have been several.

On leaving Asker the prisoner went under the name of Bullock until he got to Calgary then all traces of Bullock were lost.

A large number of articles were afterwards found in his possession. Many of which could not have been presented to him by Stainton; (All the articles enumerated.) Kretling's evidence may not be important as to the identity, as he had not a good opportunity of observing the shorter man.

There is some mystery connected with the watch. The defence pointed out that the suspensory found on the body had not been seen on Stainton when alive. As the finger we only have the evidence that Stainton did not lose more than half a day at his work, so the cut could not have been of great importance.

Now gentlemen, I need not review the evidence further, I must leave you to decide. If you are satisfied that that is the body of Stainton you will find he was the prisoner, and if you decide it was the prisoner, it will be your duty to find a verdict of guilty.

If on the other hand you have any doubt, but that doubt, must be a reasonable one, as to the body, as to the identity of Stainton then it will be your duty to acquit him.

You will now retire until 10 o'clock to-night.

GUILTY.
At 10 p. m. the jury took their places and answered to their names.
Clerk—Gentlemen of the jury, are you agreed.
Foreman—We are.
Clerk—What is your verdict.
Foreman—Guilty.

In reply to the usual question, the jury said that they all stood by their verdict.

THE VERDICT.
The Judge—Prisoner have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed on you?
Prisoner—Nothing! But I am not guilty your lordship.

THE SENTENCE.
The Judge—The evidence was so strong against you I cannot see how the jury could have given any other verdict. I must tell you I cannot hold out any hope to you. You will go from here to whence you came, that is the Mounted Police barracks at Fort Saskatchewan and there, prepare to meet your God, and on the 26th day of March, be hanged by the neck, till dead. And "May God have mercy on your soul."

LOCAL.
—J. C. Howie, of the Bulletin staff, who has been laid up with congestion of the lungs, is so far recovered as to be about again.

Calgary Daily Herald, Feb. 19.—Duncan Stewart, of Pilot Mound, the liberal candidate, defeated R. L. Richardson, by a large majority.

The immigration pamphlet, compiled and published by the Bulletin Co., is now ready. There are 80 pages in the publication, 32 being devoted entirely to valuable information for the use of settlers and others.

Stanlaus Larue, father of Mr. S. Larue, died at the General Hospital, on the 19th inst., at the age of 62 years. He had undergone an operation and was progressing favorably. Some days later a change for the worse set in, which resulted in death on Tuesday night. The funeral took place yesterday from Mr. S. Larue's residence on Kintinno avenue. Services were held at St. Joachim's church, the remains were interred in the Edmonton cemetery. The deceased left seven sons and four daughters to mourn his loss.

HOCKEY.
On Tuesday evening the third match for the Douglass cup was played between the Edmonton and Strathcona hockey teams on the Strathcona rink. Strathcona, resulting in another victory for the home team, thus winning for them the coveted cup.

Edmonton put up a good game and would doubtless have won had it not been for the absence of three of their best players. In the second half they prevented their opponents from getting a lead, as in the former contest.

A fast game was played throughout resulting in the score of 8 to 5 in favor of Strathcona.

The contest for the Calgary Breweries cup will commence on Tuesday next, at the Thistle rink. A hot number is expected.

CURLING.
Monday night.
Cigar cup—McDonald beat Cushing, 14 to 4.
Tuesday night.
Blue Ribbon cup—Bryan beat Dowsett, 12 to 2.
Wednesday night.
Hudson's Bay cup—McCauley beat Cushing, 10 to 9. Dowsett beat Fraser, 10 to 4.
